

Does base-model output divergence predict where SFT generalizes?

