

Does a low-dimensional token subspace carry the own-answer advantage?

