

Which layer localizes the transfer-relevant dimension? (localized arm, ep1)

Cosine similarity at every layer beats JS on the non-stylized panel; the signal strengthens into mid-late layers (L15-L27) and predicts the trained log-prob directly (dotted), so it is not the base-prior artifact. JS (null) shown for reference.