

Within source, closer-in-JS targets DO leak more — the sign flips from the cross-pair headline

Per-source Spearman ρ for the 8 sources whose diagonal cleared the inclusion threshold; median +0.331, pooled across all 1,404 cells $\rho = +0.175$ ($p = 3.9e-11$)

Within-source Spearman $\rho((1 - \text{base-model JS}), \text{fraction-of-fracs emitting})$