

Does the cosine signal survive across arms and epochs?

Positive cosine rho = higher base-model similarity predicts more transfer among non-stylized pairs. 'sat' marks points where the non-stylized panel is >50% saturated (ΔG number suspect; read the dotted trained-logP line).