

Boundary cosine is structurally flat across slices; sliced cosines drop on the trigger
Persona-vectors recipe (difference of means, source – conditional). The boundary value is input-independent — it cannot see a behaviour gated on the user turn.

