

The trigger-slot aggregate at $5e-6$ is a mixture, not lower retention

Emitting completions put the slot after a run of emitted markers, where the base model also predicts the marker (delta near 0); non-emitting completions retain the most of any rate. Per-seed means, $n = 200$ per cell.

